

Fairfield celebrates 375 years with vibrant arts and culture

As the town of Fairfield celebrates our 375th anniversary this year, we are proud to honor and highlight the multitude of arts and culture that make our community so vibrant and a wonderful place to live and work.

Fairfield has become a destination for our many exciting and quality arts and cultural programs and events. Some of the places in town to visit include our Fairfield Museum and History Center, Fairfield Theatre Company, Fairfield University and Sacred Heart University, Pequot Library, the Fairfield Public Library, Fairfield Woods Branch Library and the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce and Art/Place. The musical events, galleries and dance schools, as well as the individual artistic talents, also make our town highly attractive.

In 2012, a first selectman's Fairfield arts advisory committee was launched to bring together the many wonderful arts and cultural talents, events and programs our town offers.

A 375th anniversary committee, comprised of volunteer residents and community leaders, was launched last spring. The committee has planned exciting events for Fairfield residents throughout 2014 to celebrate the town's rich history and create new memories for current and future generations.

Fairfield continues to be a strong supporter of the arts and cultural scene and invites residents and visitors alike to continue to enjoy and learn from the many outstanding individuals and organizations that make our community so special. The arts and culture in Fairfield not only helps contribute to our economic tax base, but also enriches our quality of life.

The town thanks the Cultural Alliance of Fairfield County for giving us another opportunity to invite the public to participate in any or all of the events and programs offered by Fairfield's impressive arts and cultural organizations.

Take the time to discover or rediscover all the things that make Fairfield a most special community. For more information on arts and culture in Fairfield, the public is encouraged to contact the first selectman's office at (203) 256-3030 or visit our website at fairfieldct.org.

calendar of exhibitions, programs, lectures and family events. On view throughout the year is a new, major exhibition, "Creating Community: Exploring 375 Years of Our Past," which invites visitors to see, hear, touch and truly experience what life was like in our area from the 1600s on, as they walk through six chronologically organized sections and participate in the interactive, hands-on exhibits and view rare artifacts.

Fairfield Museum and History Center is a privately supported, nonprofit museum established in 2007 by the 103-year old Fairfield Historical Society. The 13,000 square-foot museum, inspired architecturally by the historic warehouses along Southport harbor, includes modern galleries, a research library, a museum shop and community spaces overlooking Fairfield's historic Town Green. The Fairfield Museum welcomes more than 15,000 visitors annually; it believes in the power of history to inspire the imagination, stimulate thought and transform society.
